HEADTEACHER'S NOTE

We started this final week of term with the most incredible concert at JAGS - our young musicians played beautifully. Thank you for joining us.

This morning, we came together for our final assembly. The children sang, with stunning harmonies from Y6; the staff read a poem about a naughty elf; we watched the most fantastic film produced by Film Club, and gave a huge sigh of relief when Santa was 'saved'; appreciation certificates were presented to staff; and a letter was read out to Y4 in response to their peaceful Polar Bear Explorer Club 'protest' yesterday. It was a privilege to be part of this special assembly, and to share it with the children and staff.

Looking ahead to a busy new term, please find our spring Key Dates document further on in the HH. Also, check your emails from yesterday, where you will find your child's spring term 1 'Our Learning Grid' and spelling letter. There is plenty of information there to give you an overview and a taster of what is to come in the new year...

All of the Hamlet Team and I would like to thank our parents and carers for your continued support, your good wishes for the festive break, and for your kind and thoughtful gifts.

Happy Christmas everyone.
See you in 2024!

A very Merry Christmas to you from us all at Dulwich Hamlet Junior School

HOLIDAY HOMEWORK

All of our Hamleteers have brought home some home learning for the holidays – reading/Doodle/TTRS mainly. (Each year group has something slightly different) We want everyone to make sure they are well-rested, and most importantly, have some holiday fun. But as we head towards the return of term, completing some of these holiday activities will certainly help with getting back into the 'school routine'.

HALF-TERMLY SPORTING ROUND-UP

I'm delighted to be able to share more sports news from the second half of term. We've had a few fixtures since the half term break; some have been wet, some very wet! It's always great to see our Hamleteers demonstrating their sporting skills and a positive sporting attitude on and off the pitch, course or court. Unfortunately, we haven't had any written reports from our journalists this time. Our reports today will be in picture form.

Please do keep checking the drawers and cupboards at home for pieces of our kit; we're a few bits missing! We've even had some returned via the second - hand uniform shop!

Our first fixture was a girl's football festival at Rosemead Prep. Our team of girls played several matches against other local schools. The team were cheered on by a very enthusiastic parent!

The following week our girl's cross-country squad braved the elements and ran in the JAGS Cross Country competition.

On Tuesday 28th November we had the first of our Trust mixed football team festivals. This one was for Y4 and played at Lyndhurst School.

Our other sporting news:

On Monday 27th November our Y6s invited Lyndhurst over to learn how to play Gaelic Football. Despite the heavy rain a good time was had by all. Our Y6s were able to teach their peers' new skills learnt and even have a mini match.

Our Y5s have enjoyed some cycling sessions at the velodrome. This is a new form of PE for us and we hope the skills learnt on and off the track will benefit all, our keen cyclists and / or encourage others to jump on a bike.

It's not only our children who get involved with fun physical activities, our staff do too! On the last day of the first half of the autumn term, our Y6s teamed up with brave energetic staff for a flash mob dance in Turney Playground. Mrs Swann and her daughter made a short film of the Y6 work leading up to the main event and of the teachers rehearsing before school. We also filmed the event and shared with our school community. We're unable to share the link with the wider community on this occasion. Well done Y6, well done DHJS staff and well done and thanks to Alison Swann.

My thanks as always to the dedicated PE team and staff members who brave the elements whatever the weather. Not forgetting Mr Mullings for co-ordinating and leading our fixtures. Nikki Thomson Assistant Headteacher & P.E. Lead

Top Tips for SETTING UP PARENTAL CONTROLS ON NEW DEVICES

In children's eagerness to start enjoying new digital gadgets immediately, it can be easy to overlook setting up the type of parental controls that can help to protect them online. If you don't sort those out from the very start, it can be an uphill battle – technologically and psychologically – to impose such controls later. Here's our rundown of what to look for when setting up the various internet-enabled devices that might be lurking under the tree at this time of year.

IPHONE

If your child's lucky enough to be getting their own iPhone, parental controls can help avoid issues like screen addiction and unsuitable content. Go into the settings and scroll down to "Screen Time". From here you can customise important settings including time limits on using the device, communication restrictions and content blockers. You can also lock your changes behind a passcode.

ANDROID

With Android devices, Google's Family Link app is your friend. You'll need a Google account – and a separate one for your child, which you should use when first setting up the device. Then, in Family Link on your own device, select 'Add Child' and enter their account details. This lets you specify limits on daily usage, restrict certain apps, block particular content and more.

PLAYSTATION

You can prep for a PlayStation before it's even unwrapped. At my.account.sony.com, create an account, then go to Account Management > Family Management > Add Family Member to set up your child's account, which you'll use to sign in on the console. You can restrict the age ratings of the games they can play and who they can talk to. On the PS5, you can make exceptions for any games you think are acceptable despite their high age rating.

IPAD

iPad parental controls are identical to those on iPhones. However, if you've got a shared family iPad and want to ensure your children aren't seeing anything age-inappropriate after you hand them the device, there's a feature called Guided Access (under Settings > Accessibility > Guided Access). With this switched on, young ones can only use the app that's currently open.

XBOX

The Xbox Family Settings app helps you manage which games your child can play (and when). You'll need to set up the console with your own account and then add a child profile. Make sure your account's password protected, so your child can't alter your choices later. You'll be walked through the functions at setup, but you can also reach them manually via Settings > Account > Family Settings.

NINTENDO SWITCH

Download the Nintendo Switch Parental Controls app on your phone, and you'll be shown how to link it to the console. Once that's done, you can limit how long your child can play each day, decide what age ratings are permitted and more. You'll also get weekly updates on how often they've used the device. These controls are accessible through the console itself, but the app is usually easier.

WINDOWS 11 PCS

On Windows 11, account management is key. Set up the device with your own account as the admin. Then go to Settings > Accounts > Family and Other Users and create your child's account (if you've already done this on a previous PC, just log in with those details). Microsoft Family Safety (either the app or the site) then lets you control screen time, what content children can view and more.

CHROMEBOOKS

Chromebooks' parental controls are managed via the Family Link app. Unlike an Android device, however, you need set up the Chromebook with your own account first, then add your child's. Go to Settings > People > Add Person and input your child's Google account details (or create a new account). Your child can then log in, and you can monitor what they're up to via Family Link.

MACS

Like iPhones, parental controls for Macs are managed via the Screen Time settings. Again, the crux here is to set yourself up as the administrator before adding any child accounts. In the settings, look for Users & Groups to create your child's account, then – while on their profile – use the screen time options to place any boundaries around apps, usage and who your child can communicate with (and vice versa).

SMART TVS

Smart TVs typically have their own individual parental controls. One of the most popular brands is Samsung – and on their TVs, you can control the content available to your child. In the Settings menu, under 'Broadcasting', you can lock channels and restrict content by its age rating. Even this isn't foolproof, however: some apps (like YouTube) might still let children access unsuitable material.

12 Top Tips for Children and Young People to Enjoy a TECH-FREE CHRISTMAS

The Christmas holidays are tailor made for families to enjoy relaxed quality time in each other's company – but with distractions like pinging phone notifications, the lure of games consoles and online Boxing Day sales, that can be more difficult than it sounds. Staying off our phones, laptops and tablets, however, can really help us to appreciate the things that genuinely matter at this special time of year. Follow our 12 top tips for a tech-free festive season ... Yule be glad you did! Merry Christmas!

CHRISTMAS CRAFTING

Get out the paper, glue and scissors and have a go at hand-making cards or gift tags. You could also create your own decorations to add a uniquely personal touch to the Christmas tree.

NATURE QUEST

Try a scavenger hunt in the garden or your local park. Challenge yourself and your family to find natural treasures that are symbolic of this time of year – like holly or pinecones, say.

CAROL KARAOKE

Sing your hearts out with a Christmas carol karaoke night. Pick out your favourite tunes and enjoy a musical celebration with family and friends.

WANDER DOWN MEMORY LANE

How about making a scrapbook filled with your favourite memories from Christmases gone by? Unleash your creativity while you enjoy reliving those magical holiday moments.

TRY REFLECTIVE JOURNALLING

Dot down your thoughts, feelings and reflections on the holiday in a notebook or diary – you could also list some of your main goals for the new year.

WRAP IT UP

Take time to get inventive with some luxurious gift wrapping. Break out the wrapping paper, ribbons and bows to make parcelling up those presents into a creative adventure.

WALK IN A WINTER WONDERLAND

Delight in the great outdoors with some gentle walks over the holiday. The family can all wrap up warm as you add to your step count and savour the crisp winter air together.

BE A SEASONAL CHEF

Get the whole family working together in the kitchen for some Christmas cooking. Choose a recipe and whip up a festive feast that all of you can enjoy.

ENJOY A CHRISTMAS STORY

Christmas is a perfect time for sparkling stories. Get cosy and lose yourself in a brilliant book, from Dickens to Dr Seuss or a more modern favourite by Chris van Allsburg or Tom Fletcher.

SNOWY SCULPTURES

If we're fortunate enough to get a white Christmas this year, make the most of the opportunity by having a family snowman-building competition!

GAMES NIGHT GALA

Dive into some old-school fun with a tech-free games night. Classic board games and card games have stood the test of time for a reason!

GOODWILL TO ALL

You and your family could spend a day volunteering – perhaps at a food bank or helping a local charity. After all, kindness and thinking of others are part of what Christmas is all about.
